

ENGL 200: Foundations of Literary Study

Spring 2023 T/Th 11:30-12:45

Professor Lisa Weihman

lweihman@mail.wvu.edu

Being Human in the Humanities

What are the foundations of literary study? How and why do the humanities matter to society? What does it mean to be a human being? We will be reading a variety of texts in different genres in an attempt to gain insight into these crucial questions. You will also learn the research and writing skills that are fundamental to the study and practice of literary studies.

