Exploring Black Appalachian and Affrilachian Poets & Writers

This course provides an opportunity to explore diverse, contemporary Black voices from Appalachia. We will read and analyze primarily poetry, but also fiction and nonfiction pieces that investigate the experiences of Black people, as well as other people of color, from Appalachia. We will write both creative and analytical responses to literature while learning more about Black poets and writers from this region.

We will read texts written by Nikki Giovanni, Frank X. Walker, Crystal Wilkinson, doris diosa davenport, Steven Dunn, and more!
