

WRIT 407: THE WRITING OF HEALTH AND MEDICINE

"The Writing of Health and Medicine" will explore influential creative and professional genres in health and medicine. As a class, we will consider how the ways that we write in and about health and medicine are meaningful, and we will look at the roles different texts and rhetorical practices play in shaping the knowledge and experience of health and medicine.

Tuesdays 4-6:50pm

Questions? Email Prof. Gouge (cgouge@wvu.edu)

Note: This WRIT 407 will be a mixed class of graduate students and advanced undergraduate students who will complete and discuss overlapping reading and graded work assignments.