

Caroline Riley

English 213 - Creative Writing: Poetry

8:30-9:20 MWF in Hodges Hall 321

From The Book of Urizen, William Blake c. 1818

In this class...

We will study poetry diverse in authorship and time period. We will learn and practice poetic terminology and techniques, and use this knowledge to write responses, analyses, and original poems. This course will also be a workshop. We will come together to bring each student's original poems closer to their best vision of them.
