Course Texts

Your original written work—composed, polished, and due as indicated on the schedule.

English 103 faculty. English 103: Accelerated Academic Writing. Fourth Edition. Plymouth, MI: Hayden McNeil, 2012.

- abbreviated as AAW on the schedule and in assignments
- DO NOT BUY USED COPIES OF THIS BOOK! It is a workbook and could have pages removed.

Lunsford, Andrea A. Easy Writer (for WVU). Fourth Edition. Boston: Bedford/St. Martins, 2010.

- abbreviated as EZ on the schedule and in assignments

Additional Materials and Resources

In addition to your texts and computer, you will need a folder or binder to keep all of your writing organized and together, a notebook for taking notes, a two-pocket folder for essay submissions, and an activated MIX account. NOTE: You may e-mail me from any address you wish; however, if I need to contact you individually or the class as a whole, I will rely on the Mix system. You are responsible for setting up and regularly checking your Mix e-mail. For help with Mix, contact OIT Help Desk at 293-4444, extension 1. Lastly, you will also need access to WVU's eCampus page for this class.

Welcome to English 103: Overview and Objectives

This course is part of WVU's General Education Curriculum Writing Program, which recognizes that effective writing skills are essential to success in every field of study and work. Most WVU students are required to take a sequence of two introductory composition courses—English 101 and English 102. This course, English 103, is an accelerated introduction to academic writing; successful completion with the grade of C or better in this 3-credit course will satisfy the introductory composition requirement. Since 103 is an accelerated 3-credit hour composition course, it is specifically designed for students who have already demonstrated a certain level of writing proficiency, and it emphasizes a more rigorous approach to both research and writing—one based on your ability to work more quickly and more independently than students who take the traditional two-course sequence.

Students enrolled in this course may already have composed award-winning fiction and poetry; others in the class may have contributed to their high school newspapers or regional magazines; still others have simply always done well on high school essay assignments. You've probably all had some—perhaps considerable—experience in stating your opinion clearly, and you should all have control of your writing style and mechanics. In other words, you are already strong writers. Building on your existing strengths, English 103 will provide you with opportunities to write:

- as a means of discovery and learning;
- as an integral part of inquiry about the material, social, and cultural contexts we share with others; and
- as a means of exploring, understanding, evaluating, and formulating ideas in academic disciplines.

As you polish your abilities to develop academic arguments, you will also become more articulate about your own knowledge of writing. By the end of English 103, you should be able to:

- know how to choose various kinds of writing (i.e., genres) to match the purpose and audience of a writing situation;
- evaluate multiple audiences and varied rhetorical contexts for writing, particularly for researched, persuasive writing;
- formulate strategies for civic and academic arguments;
- find and evaluate resource material appropriately;
- use academic citation systems to document work while understanding the need for and logic of such systems.

Assignment Overview

To learn more about the work you will be doing in this course, read pages xiii – xiv in AAW. We will review detailed assignment hand-outs as we begin each of the four major essays; likewise, informal writing assignments called writer’s notebook entries will supplement your reading and writing with each essay. NOTE: In addition to the four major essays, reflections on them, and the writer’s notebook entries that you will complete, you will also attend four information literacy instructional sessions at the library that will require conscientious preparation as well as feedback in three extended research notebook assignments. For more information about these assignments, consult the evaluation criteria described below. Finally, you should save all of your papers this semester because this course utilizes a portfolio approach to emphasize ongoing writing and revision. For more information about what may be a new approach to you, consult page xiv of AAW. I will refer to these four essays as the Braided Narrative, Speech Analysis, Vetting a Documentary, and Researched Argument. Every student must complete every essay in full in order to pass the course.

Evaluation Criteria and Grade Descriptions

Success in this class depends on meeting all the requirements, the quality of your written work, and your willingness to try new perspectives, to revise and rethink, and to take risks. Your final grade will be based on the following percentages:

Writer’s Notebook Entries (abbreviated as WN) – 6 short, informal writing assignments	20%
Participation – in class and online	10%
Research Notebooks (abbreviated as RN) – 2 assignments assigned in conjunction with your library visits	10%
Midterm Memo	5%
Final Portfolio – polished and revised versions of all major essays and reflective writing	55%

The full grade descriptions for each aspect of your grade, listed above, can be found on pages xv – xvi of AAW.

Policies and Procedures

As you can see, this class relies on your direct engagement with the processes of reading and writing. For more information on course policies and procedures, please read pages xvii – xix in AAW. These policies guide my expectations for English 103 students regarding absences, participation, late work, cheating/plagiarism, classroom courtesy, social justice, and special needs. Additionally, please note the following policy reminders:

- Absence Policy – Students are allowed up to 2 absences in this class; a third absence will compromise your grade as much as one full letter; each additional absence will lower your final grade by an additional letter. Five or more absences will result in a failing grade. This is a policy established by the Center for Writing Excellence, which I must support. Also, a missed conference counts as two absences, and three tardies equal one absence. There are no excused absences. Save your allotted absences for personal situations and university events. If you have an emergency, please get in touch with me and contact the Dean of Student Life, E. Moore Hall, 293-5611, who will provide me with appropriate documentation to consider how to best help you catch up.
- Late Work Policy – Late work is unacceptable. If you ever have a problem with an assignment, please talk with me (in person and in advance) for extra help or an extension, but you must adhere to your extended deadline. Deadlines are not negotiable after you’ve missed them. I will not print an emailed essay; you must present me with a paper copy the next class period in order for it to be accepted and graded. Otherwise, it will be a zero. Remember, missing class does not mean that the assignment is not still due; you are still responsible for missed class and homework. However, if circumstances force you to turn in late work, you have one week after the due date to turn it in, and you will receive a penalty of 10 points. After that, your grade will become a zero.
- Plagiarism Policy – Because they undermine education, plagiarism and cheating will result in an immediate F for the course and academic discipline. The WVU undergraduate catalog defines plagiarism as “[s]ubmitting, without appropriate acknowledgement, . . . material that has been copied in whole or in part from the work of others, whether such source is published or not, including (but not limited to) another individual’s academic composition, compilation, or other product, or commercially prepared paper” (47). The catalog defines cheating in part as “doing academic work for another student or providing one’s own work for another student to copy and submit as his or her own” (47).

Useful Resources

WVU Writing Center: Located in Room G02 of Colson Hall, you may come to the center for tutoring, or schedule an appointment (a 30 or 50 minute session) by calling 293-5788. For more information or links to useful information regarding MLA citation and writing development: <http://english.wvu.edu/centers\_and\_projects/wcenter>. You are required to visit the Writing Center at least once during the semester.

WVU Term Paper Clinic: Located in the Downtown Library Study Room 1028, staff at the Term Paper Clinic can assist you in gathering, sorting through, and incorporating research. Hours are Monday – Friday, 1:30 – 3:30; appointments are necessary.

Office Hours

If you ever have any questions, please feel free to stop by during my office hours, which are listed at the top of this document. If these times are not convenient, you may make an appointment with me. For immediate help, I suggest that we talk in person, but you may also use e-mail: mablount@mix.wvu.edu. In special and urgent circumstances only, you may leave a message for me at the English Department: 293-3107.
