Creative Writing: Fiction

Instructor: Cade Mullins

Tuesday/Thursday 11:30–12:45

FICTION WRITING IS A SKILL...

...and, like any skill, can be learned through practice. Over the semester, you'll write six short pieces of fiction, as well as two short stories or novel chapters. You'll receive careful feedback on your writing from your instructor and your peers. But because practicing fiction writing doesn't just include writing it, we'll also be reading a novel and a dozen short stories, examining the technical aspects of each.

By the end of the semester, you'll be a better writer, reader, and artist, and you'll have a greater appreciation for the intricate craft of fiction.

Writers we may read

Shirley Jackson | David Foster Wallace | Octavia Butler | Ambrose Bierce | James Baldwin | Raymond Carver | Flannery O'Connor | J.D. Salinger
